3 Description of Change

The u-blox ROM SPG 3.01 based EVA-M8M concurrent GNSS modules are now fully released for Mass Production and the Product Change Notification (PCN) [1] period has expired.

As a consequence, relevant documentation (see Reference Document) has been updated and published.

4 Customer Impact and Recommended Action

It is recommended that customers acquire the latest documentation and check for potential changes / updates. Each affected document ([2], [3]) contains a revision history with information about the content changes.

The EVA-8M / EVA-M8 (FW3) Hardware Integration Manual [3] is still in status "Advance Information", as it is a combined document including EVA-M8Q module, which is still in status Engineering Sample (ES).
